14 PAGES — Vol. 52, No. 8

TOYS FOR TOTS, Christmas program sponsored by the Marine Corps Reserve, will continue in Sierra Madre through Dec. 19. Donations may be placed in the big Toys for Tots barrel at the Fire Station. Leading the contributors is Police Chief Gordon G. McMillan, shown here with Sgt. Herbert Roebuck of the Marine Corps. Donated toys, which should be either new or usable, are distributed among less fortunate children at Christmas.

Girl 17, Rescued In Canyon

A 17-year-old Bellflower girl was carried by litter from Big Santa Anita Canyon Sunday afternoon by members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew.

The teenager, Judy Felds, of 9323 Mayne Ave., was spending the weekend with a church group at Sturtevant Camp when she fell, re-injuring her back which had been broken in an auto accident Sept. 28.

It took the Rescue Team only 25 minutes from the time they were called to get to the camp. Because of the girl's injuries and the rocky terrain, evacuation from the canyon was slow. Twice the litter had to be removed from its supporting cycle wheel and carried by hand.

The girl was delivered to her anxious parents and a waiting sheriff's car at the end of the new flood control road at Robert's Camp. The rescue took about three hours — from 1:30 to 4:37 p.m.

Judy was taken to a Bellflower hospital for further examination.

Participating in the rescue were Earl and Edward La Lone, Bill Wark, Minor Harkness, Jon Matthews, Ray Lorenzini, Grant Raddon, Jim Parsons and Donald Colbert.

Marie Wald, Librarian, to Resign Dec. 15

Mrs. Marie Wald, head librarian here, has resigned, effective Dec. 15.

Her resignation was announced at a meeting of the Library Board this week. Librarian here for the past year and a half, Mrs. Wald has accepted a position with the Los Angeles County Library.

Mrs. Wald will be succeeded temporarily by Mrs. Harry Hinshaw, now assistant librarian.

Downtown All Dressed For Christmas

The Christmas season arrived officially in Sierra Madre yesterday with the annual placing of evergreen trees in the shopping areas.

The trees, all green this year, will be uniformly decorated, and it is devoutly hoped that youngsters will be so imbued with the Christmas spirit they will leave the tree ornaments in place.

Santa Claus will come to town in the fire truck on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 12 and 13, and on the same two days the following week, St. Nick will be here from 6:30 to 8:30 Friday evenings and from 4 to 6 p.m. on Saturdays.

The Nativity Scene, which has become a tradition in Sierra Madre, was put up the day after Thanksgiving in Kersting Ct., under the direction of Mrs. Harold Roberts.

Christmas music will be piped into the downtown area from The Music Shop. Also, arrangements are being made by Ralph Hurwit, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Division, to have Christmas caroling throughout the business area.

In addition, prizes will be awarded for the best decorated homes in Sierra Madre. The city will be divided into four zones and a prize will be given to a home in each.

Students Score High In Achievement Test

Each Grade Makes Above Average Mark

Sierra Madre Elementary School students have established an enviable record in achievement tests taken last September, it was reported at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Students in each grade scored higher than their grade level, according to a report made by Principal Edward Hawkins. Sixth graders, for example, are a full year ahead of the national average.

This is a reversal of the results of the same tests taken in September two years ago. In those tests, sixth graders performed at grade level, but came out ahead of the national average in only one of six specific categories.

THE RESULTS of these tests led to the formation of a citizens' curriculum committee which worked with school authorities in an effort to strengthen the study program.

Results of the test reported Monday night, however, show that every grade from two through six is performing above its level.

Second graders, for example, are at a 2.6 grade level; third grade, 3.4; fourth, 4.4; fifth, 5.4, and sixth is a year ahead.

Furthermore, students, on the average, are doing good work in every subject upon which the tests are based. These are reading vocabulary, reading comprehension, arithmetic reasoning, arithmetic fundamentals, mechanics of English and spelling.

SEVERAL conclusions can be drawn from test results, Mr. Hawkins pointed out. These include:

1. Although the tests make clear that individual differences are great, a high percentage of local school students are rapid learners.

2. The real challenge here points to the necessity of continuing a good "enrichment" program. In other words, students capable of exceptional performance should be given an opportunity to broaden themselves through an expanding curriculum.

3. These tests may be interpreted in many ways. It would be foolish to judge the mental and emotional achievement of youngsters solely on the basis of one test covering only the fundamental subjects.

IN ANOTHER development Monday night, the Board learned that the School District faces an austere program for the latter part of the school year.

Board President Kenneth Bush reported that the estimated budget of $354,320 will fall short by $10,346. The greatest loss—$9,930—resulted from an over-estimation of the assessed valuation. The district also lost $1,863 in basic and equalization aid. This was offset, however, by a gain of $1,353 in transportation aid.

The Board also tentatively adopted a policy on the educational program, the main points of which are:

1. Programs should contribute to the benefit of each student.

2. Programs prepared during school time should be educational in nature.

3. Programs drawn from the curriculum should be selected from state or county materials.

SEVERAL ITEMS were accepted from the PTA. These include a tape recorder, listening post and six earphones, magnifying glass, puzzles and other educational materials.

In conclusion, the Board voted to send letters of thanks to the fathers who worked on kindergarten storage facilities.

They are Terry Chambers, John A. Sielen, William Spargur, James Holt, Roland Guthers, John Christenson and Fred Crawford.

Hiestand To Run Again In 1960

Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand, 21st District Republican, yesterday announced the beginning of his campaign for Congress in 1960, thus dispelling rumors he would retire after his present term expires.

Mr. Hiestand was re-elected to his fourth term last November in a close race with Mrs. Rudd Brown, La Canada Democrat. Mrs. Brown is expected to seek her party's nomination for Congress again in 1960.

The GOP congressman said he is "convinced the Republican Party is stronger today than at any time in the last two years."

"This is due to the fact," he said, "that though badly beaten, we went down fighting. We are now united and are building a great fighting team."

"As the Vice President Nixon put it, Republicans worked magnificently for two months, while Democrats worked hard for two years. This is the start, therefore, of the Hiestand for Congress campaign for 1960. The committee has convinced me I should declare my candidacy now and organize now."

Mr. Hiestand spoke before members of the Foothill Young Republicans at the Knights of Pythias Lodge in East Pasadena. Eugene Bell of Sierra Madre presided.

The congressman also spoke recently at functions in Altadena, Lancaster and Griffith Ranch above Hansen Dam.

OH, YOU KID!—Mel McCoy, dressed like star of the silent screen, steps from limousine on night of the reopening of the Sierra Madre Theater. Mrs. McCoy was among about 30 Sierra Madres who, dressed in the fashion of the 1920's, descended en masse upon the theater to make its grand opening a unique occasion. ## Electric Firm Urges Better City Lighting

A sweeping re-lighting program for Sierra Madre has been proposed by the Southern California Edison Co. following the recent completion of a city-wide survey.

In a report to City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, the firm suggested a program that would increase lighting in the city by, in some cases, four times its present amount.

Edison Co. officials will explain the report to businessmen and to any interested resident at a "coffee hour" from 8 to 9 a.m. Dec. 16 in the Woman's Clubhouse. The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the meeting.

IN SIERRA MADRE'S downtown area, from Lima to east of Baldwin, the power company suggests an increase in lighting by nearly four times, and the installation of five more lights.

The proposal would increase the cost in the Downtown Lighting District from its present $158.90 a month to $333.90. The cost in this district is met by businesses and the City of Sierra Madre.

The company also made a survey of every street in the city, and suggested more intense lighting on almost all of them.

THE EDISON CO. pointed out that many lights in the city are at least 25 years old and are obsolete and uneconomical.

More modern lighting, the report states, would result in lower maintenance cost, greater illumination per dollar cost, increase automobile and pedestrian safety and help cut down crime.

Dim lighting in the downtown area has long been a sore point with local businessmen who believe improved illumination will make the area more attractive and result in more customers.

Further information may be obtained by calling Miss Clara Sykes, ELgin 5-1221; Mrs. Marguerite Bowman, ELgin 5-2880, or City Hall, ELgin 5-7135.

Circulate Petitions for New Sewer

A group of Sierra Madre women are circulating petitions for the formation of another sewer district here, it was announced yesterday.

The district they are covering extends from Michillinda to Baldwin, and from Sierra Madre Blvd. to Grand View. It also includes Alegria and Fairview between Michillinda and Sunnyside.

The area is large, it was explained, because the trunk lines are in Sierra Madre Blvd. and Baldwin Ave. Consequently any sewer extension must take off from these existing lines.

The women must get 60 per cent of the property owners to sign. If successful, there will be a public hearing at which district residents may be heard, either in protest or approval.

Further information may be obtained by calling Miss Clara Sykes, ELgin 5-1221; Mrs. Marguerite Bowman, ELgin 5-2880, or City Hall, ELgin 5-7135.

Frank Parks To Head Local Republican Club

Frank Parks was elected president for the 1958-60 term by the Sierra Madre Republicans at their annual meeting recently.

Elected to the Executive Board are Mrs. Claude H. Brown Jr., vice president; Mrs. Nathaniel Van deVerg, secretary; Franklin Franco, treasurer, and Mrs. Mac A. Cason, campaign manager. Mrs. Robert de Weese was appointed precinct chairman.

The new president was installed by Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand. The slate of officers was presented by the nominating committee which includes Col. Charles Morrison, Mrs. Noren Eaton, Mrs. Carl Hansen and Mrs. Franklin Franco.

Supervisors OK New Water District Plan

A declaration of intention to form a new San Gabriel Valley Water District has been approved by the Board of Supervisors, Board Chairman Frank G. Bonelli announced yesterday.

The declaration, signed by 235 registered voters in the cities of Sierra Madre, Alhambra, Monterey Park and Azusa, seeks to hold an election to form the water district.

Under provisions of the State Municipal Water District Act, voters will ballot at a special election to approve or turn down the proposed district and to choose five directors. Date of the election has not yet been set.

MEANWHILE, a committee has been formed to handle district problems, pending the election and the selection of permanent officers.

The committee administrator is Lawrence C. Bevington, city administrator of Sierra Madre. Councilman Webster Vannier of this city has been appointed a committee member.

Other members are James Bradshaw, Monterey Park councilman, committee chairman; Louis Memmershimer, Azusa councilman, and T. D'Arcy Quinn, Alhambra councilman.

E. A. Stockinger has been appointed field representative, and Emmett Tompkins, legal advisor.

The committee will meet at

Walter Askin Is December Gallery Guest

Walter Askin, well known artist of southern California, will be the guest in the gallery at the Sierra Madre Library during December.

Mr. Askin has exhibited at the California State Fair in Sacramento, Los Angeles Art Association gallery, Chouinard Art Institute of Los Angeles, Los Angeles County Museum of Modern Art in New York, Pasadena Public Library, and the University of Southern California.

Among the many honors he has won are the Purchase Prize at the Annual Exhibition of the Pasadena Society of Artists in the Pasadena Art Museum in 1953 and a prize at the 37th National Exhibition of the California Watercolor Society, Pasadena Art Museum, and the Richmond Art Center.

Mr. Askin was graduated from Pasadena City College in 1949, and from the University of California at Berkeley, in 1952. At present he is assistant professor of art at Los Angeles State College.

Need Volunteers For Work on Rose Float

Volunteers to work on Sierra Madre's Rose Float are needed as quickly as possible, Ralph E. Emerson, president of the Float Committee, announced yesterday.

Most of the workers will be needed after Christmas, Mr. Emerson said, and particularly on New Year's Eve. Groups and individuals are welcome.

Youth groups — Boy Scout, Girl Scout, etc. — may call ELgin 5-9801 to make arrangements. Adult groups, service clubs and others, call ELgin 5-7475. Teen-age car clubs and others may call ELgin 5-6673.

Individuals interested in helping may call ELgin 5-6697 or ELgin 5-3042.

Little League To Sell Yule Holly

The Sierra Madre Baseball Association will promote again this year the sale of Christmas holly as one of its major fund raising efforts to support the activities of the Babe Ruth Little League major and minor teams.

Featured will be a packaged bag of berried English holly selling for $1. Other items will be a Christmas evergreen home decorator kit for $2, and an alpine wreath for $3.50.

All boys between the ages of 8 and 15 who play baseball will meet Saturday, Dec. 6, at 9 a.m. in Memorial Park, across from the Congregational Church.

Orders will be taken by the boys themselves starting this Saturday.

Gordon and Christmas . . .

Colored Globes Aid Yule Array

(Editor's Note: Each year Gordon Baker Lloyd, of Sierra Madre, compiles a series of columns on indoor and outdoor Christmas decorations. He and his wife Sassy go "on the road" to clubs all over California for eight weeks showing folks how to make their own Christmas. Some of his ideas he will pass on weekly to us.)

By Gordon Baker Lloyd

More than ever folks like you and I, up and down the state, are making their own Christmas this year—decorations, both inside and out. More than ever there is a growing consciousness of entire neighborhoods decorating their houses in their own blocks. Family get-togethers are becoming more frequent in planning and making decorations. To me, this is wonderful, and expresses more and more the true feeling of sharing Christmas.

The first thing I see as I pass a house in the evening during the holiday season are doorways and windows. Not everyone is able to have big enough windows where one can see the Christmas tree, but we do have windows where several different things can be done.

THE OLD FASHIONED coal-oil lamps are coming back into popularity. Maybe you have an old one or would buy a new one, around two dollars.

Fill the oil container with many colored small Christmas tree globes. The chimney should be filled with red globes. House lights shining through make it easily seen from the street, or you can put a little tree light, or bedroom night light behind it for an interesting effect. All the windows with this treatment is something to see.

Various sizes glasses, filled with globes and then glued together, can do the same thing. Used the same way in windows can be glass canisters, fish bowls, brandy glasses and so on. The effect is good — and radiates old-fashioned Christmas wishes.

Window scenes I think are much more effective for those inside the house than the passer by. If you are creating an effect of the season for the driver on the street, and the overall effect on your block this might be best remembered.

Doorways have so many variations that it's hard to say what is best. Don't make it too dainty, but still in taste, and be sure it can be seen easily. Special Christmas books on the stands now give you all kinds you can make. Personally let me give you this thought.

TRY A DOOR swag you have made yourself. They are not hard to wire together—perhaps two thirds hanging downward and a third wired up—extra pieces left and right to fill out your piece. The center can be wired with dried pods, magnolia branch end, and even cones.

The effect of this piece, either in natural conifer materials or wreaths made of nuts and fruit, del-robia style, is greatly enhanced by a spot. Your best will be gold or yellow, secondly white green and red will not have too much effect. Hide the light behind a potted plant. The door piece can be sprayed with one of our cans of spray in copper, gold, silver—or your favorite Christmas color.

The copper and gold is very effective with gold light. Don't completely cover the piece but give a natural effect with your color which actually represents the effect of frost.

NEXT WEEK, more on this door piece and interesting light effects outside.

Here's a reminder. Each year we invite to our studio house in Sierra Madre, you and your friends. This year you will see "Christmas in the Garden," Dec. 17, between the hours of 6 and 9:30 p.m. only. This time must be adhered to exactly. The address is 268 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. Hope to see you then!

The Tennis Club also is planning a Christmas party the evening of Dec. 13 in the Park House.

An open doubles tournament, sponsored by the Sierra Madre Tennis Club, will be held Dec. 14 in Memorial Park.

Entry applications must be submitted to James Holt, ELgin 5-6838, by 7 p.m. today (Thursday). The entrance fee is 75 cents for members and $1.50 for non-members.

The Tennis Club also is planning a Christmas party the evening of Dec. 13 in the Park House.

JERRY GODFREY, 19-year-old Sierra Madreen, is congratulated after giving the 3,000th pint of blood donated in the past 10 years during drives by the Red Cross here. This was the second time Jerry, who lives at 501 E. Highland, gave blood. Larry C. Lomax, chairman of the Red Cross Board of Directors, shakes Larry's hand while Mrs. R. A. Bettencourt, chairman of the Blood Bank, succeeding Mrs. Gifford Eastwood, smiles her appreciation. The Blood Bank collected 114 pints here last Monday.

Local Theater Needed

The Sierra Madre Theater, closed for nearly a year, reopened last Wednesday evening amidst all the pomp, circumstance and good natured buffoonery a group of civic-minded citizens could muster.

While teenagers and a handful of adults watched in perplexed amazement, a chauffeur driven limousine glided up and disgorged a load of bejeweled vamps and silk-hatted gentlemen, all attired, more or less, after the fashion of the Roaring '20's.

About the same time other opening night guests sauntered up from all directions, tenderly fingering ridiculously long cigarette holders and flooding the area with bright, if inane, chatter.

A SUPERLATIVE occasion in Sierra Madre, all agreed, as they entered the theater's swinging doors munching not caviar canapes but buttered popcorn.

The limousine, incidentally, was rented for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ames, and its passengers were not Rudolph Valentino and Pola Negri but Jim and Mel McCoy, among others.

The affair was arranged by Mrs. Hugh Colvin and Mrs. Harry Snow as an original way of celebrating the theater's grand reopening and of extending best wishes to the new managers.

IT IS INDEED sad that a little theater in a community somewhat off the beaten path has been unable to survive.

The main problem seems to have been unruly juveniles who raced up and down the aisles, engaged in wrestling matches, ripped the seats and, in general, made life unbearable for adult patrons and more intelligent teenagers, who finally either stayed home or patronized the cinemas in other cities.

The problem is incomprehensible since teenagers in Sierra Madre are no worse than those, say, in Pasadena where there is no rowdiness in theaters.

PERHAPS THE Police Department should keep a closer watch over the theater manners of young people. Probably only a handful have spoiled the pleasure of most of us.

In any event, the theater here got off to a fine start. The fact that so many adults staged a party in its honor indicates that the people of Sierra Madre do want a theater and will support it if it is managed properly and if the young wisecracks are kept under control. H.W.E.

A Week's Grace

We who live in Sierra Madre have at least one blessing to count.

Unlike the unfortunate residents of neighboring cities, we are permitted to digest our Thanksgiving turkey before suffering the additional pains of Christmas plum duff.

OUR HOLIDAY decorations, in other words, are not put up until after Thanksgiving, thus giving us one week's grace to contemplate the true purpose of Christmas before our heads start ringing with the strains of Jingle Bells and Mr. Crosby's rendition of Adeste Fidelis.

If not tempted by the contemplative process, we can at least go our separate ways in comparative peace.

JUMPING THE gun on the Christmas season, it seems to me, is a disgustingly commercial attempt to pry a dollar out of poor old Dad before he's had time to count his change, and should be avoided like the plague in Sierra Madre.

We owe the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants here a vote of thanks for having the good sense to refrain from this crass practice. H.W.E.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

43 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Dec. 3, 1915—N. W. Tarr and family enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Tarr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tarr of New Auburn, Wis.

HALF-PAST TEEN

Letter to the Editor

HELPS SOUL

Dear Ed:

"We who are about to die salute you!" I have been planning for a long time to lie in peace in our lovely Sierra Madre Cemetery.

Dorothy Koenig... writes of "this unsightly spot... this old forlorn Sierra Madre Cemetery... this bleak, cluttered, run-down, unlovely resting place."

So, I beheaded my fat self down there. Strange to relate, I found a lovely tranquility... a recaptured bit of our "old" Sierra Madre. My mother is there... and my sister Ethel... many wonderful others... the Hartmans, Shaws, Bovards, Tufts, Twycrosses, Sakamoto, Carters, Neutzel, Junior Young, LaLones, and literally dozens of others who were the sum and substance of "Our Town."

With Janet Wood, Herb Harrison, Harry Lange, Webster Vannier, Don Jackson, and Mr. Egan working on the perpetuation and improvement of this lovely spot, I am sure that I can rest, in my mind, in peace. We have no problems... only solutions.

Going to our cemetery did much for my soul. I remembered many of the named dead, and I thought how happy they would be to hear the nearby voices of youth at our city pool and play-ground. The dead would not feel neglected.

"The edges of the summit still appall

When we brood on the dead or the beloved; Nor can imagination do it all

In this last place of light. He dares to live

Who stops being a bird, yet beats his wings

Against the wide abyss, the gray waste nothingness of things."

—Roethke.
Peacefully,
John Woehler.

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

By Lee Shippey

The morning of the 25th dawned bright and clear. Early Byrd instantly sprang from bed, turned on the instant hot water tap and sped through an instant shave. Next he breakfasted on instant cereal, instant toast and instant coffee, so-called.

He intended to go to his office instantly, but made the mistake of putting some Instant Romance Hair Dressing on his balding pate just before leaving, and before he could get to the corner beauteous maidens were swooning at sight of him, in hope that he would catch them in his manly arms (developed by Instant Muscle Maker).

ALL WHO listen to commercials — and who can escape them? — know that the apparent chief aim of guys and dolls, both single and married, is to be raved about by the opposite sex. Everyone who reads divorce statistics also knows that one never discovers how opposite the opposite sex can be until one marries.

Thus Early Byrd got into instant trouble. He clutched a dizzying blonde (she used Instant Hair Dye) to his manly breast and she wouldn't let go. They dashed to Tijuana for an instant marriage, forgetting for the instant that Early had an appointment with his boss for that morning to talk about a promotion. When the honeymooners got home the boss, a sadly unromantic guy, saluted them with his one big gun, firing Early. Oh, yes, instantly.

That so distressed the bride that her hair turned red overnight, which so annoyed the happy bridegroom that he hustled off to Las Vegas to get an instant divorce. He was unhappy but had the satisfaction of knowing he was living modern. He was making something happen every instant on the instant.

BY DOING that he was able to live 40 years in three months, which was a great achievement. There was just one little drawback. He never had had time really to enjoy anything, appreciate anything, taste anything or savor anything. Everything he ate, drank, saw, heard or did seemed just the same because he never found time really to live any of his experiences or thoughts or aspirations.

So at the age of 21 years 3 months he died of instant boredom and was pushbuttoned into eternity. And, naturally, he was instantly forgotten, for he had never rested anywhere long enough to make an impression.

Education Needed in Segregation

By Robert G. Spivack

SET-BACK AT NORFOLK —Democracy as it exists in America, Walt Whitman once wrote, is "life's gymnasium, not of good only, but of all." A few days ago at Norfolk, Va., the aptness of these remarks became apparent. In that city, where six public schools have been closed for weeks, the voters by a 3-2 margin still favored segregation.

Reports coming to this news center offer all sorts of explanations for what happened. The turnout was small. There was a loaded "footnote" at the bottom of the ballots unduly influencing the voters. The public was bewildered. There undoubtedly were other local factors of which outsiders are unaware.

Whatever the full explanation, one point really emerges from the Norfolk vote: A massive education job is yet to be done by those who favor compliance with the Supreme Court integration decision. Whether we like to admit it or not, there are thousands of white men and women who still regard Negroes as sub-human, to be regarded with fear and withdrawal.

You may feel, as I do, that such reactions are irrational and based on lack of knowledge. But when a community will punish itself, as 60 per cent of the Norfolk voters did, you cannot write it off with such simple observations.

MAKE NO mistake about it, the Norfolk vote has given the die-hard backers of segregation a new lease on life, just as the Little Rock defeat of Congressman Brooks Hays likewise encouraged the extremists. But to those Southern moderates who may feel discouraged and regard the situation as hopeless, I pass on a comment recently made by a Negro friend of mine.

"Don't you feel pretty downhearted when you watch what's happening in this country?" I asked.

"Not at all," he answered. "You must realize that we Negroes have lived in this country as second-class citizens, or worse, for some 300 years. It's less than a hundred years ago that there was any recognition of the fact that we have any rights."

"Nowadays, when I walk down the street and a white man looks at my dark skin I think to myself, 'That man is thinking about me.' That's the big result of the Supreme Court decision. It has made the white man think about me."

THE SLOW STEADY PULL —Progress in race relations may at times be slow and at other times there may be spurts forward, but on the whole the direction is upward.

News of the Churches

Trinity Sets Program for Yule Season

Rev. Donald Ostrander, pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church, observed the beginning of Advent with the first of a series of sermons on "Advent Anticipation." Mr. Ostrander's subjects are:

Dec. 7, "Dispelling the Darkness," Holy Communion; Dec. 14, "Verifying the Record"; Dec. 21, "Expecting a Savior"; Dec. 24, "Nigh Unto Him." Candlelight Communion, midnight; and Dec. 28, "To Worship a King."

The Advent observances at the church will include a presentation of the Christmas portion of Handel's "The Messiah," on Sunday evening, Dec. 21.

On Dec. 24, Christmas eve, there will be a family worship service at 7:30 p.m. with music by the recently organized Calvin Boys Choir. This choir had its debut the Sunday before Thanksgiving, singing at both worship services. There are 35 to 40 boys in the choir.

At 11:30 Christmas eve a midnight candlelight service of Holy Communion will be observed. This will be the second year of such a special service. Inaugurated last year, it was so successful that the sessions of the church decided to make it a part of Trinity's traditional Christmas worship.

Bethany To Feature Yule Music

"Christmas Music of the Masters" will be the first of the series of special programs for the month of December at Bethany Church. The service will be Sunday night, Dec. 7, at 7 o'clock.

The Bethany Church Choir, under the direction of Margaret Schaper, will be heard in three Christmas chorales by Bach, and in selected portions of Handel's "Messiah." Bach's "Sheep May Safely Graze" and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" will be the prelude and offertory presentations by organ and piano.

Featured as soloists will be Willis Toms, tenor; John Bush, baritone; Annette Waermo, contralto; and Ida Elby, and Margaret Schaper, sopranos.

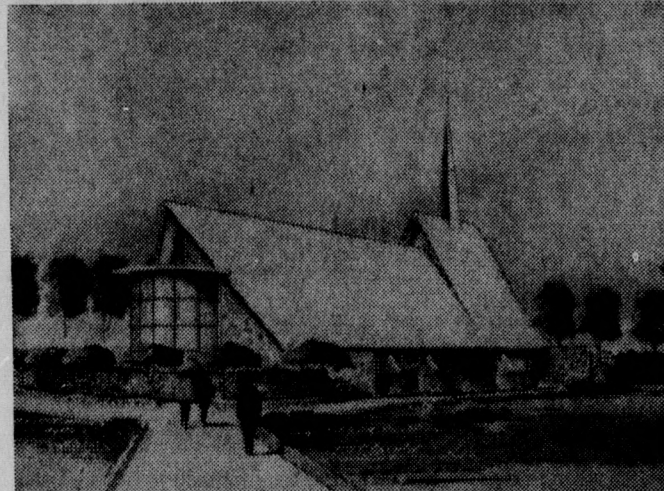

On Sunday night, Dec. 14, the Bethany Sunday School will present its Christmas program, and on Dec. 21 the Church Choir will sing its traditional Carol Story of the Nativity.

Ascension Young People Plan Bake Sale

Holy Hour and Benediction will be held at the Church of the Ascension, Friday, Dec. 5, at 8 p.m.

On Sunday, Dec. 7, the Young People's Fellowship will hold a bake sale after the 7:30 and 9:15 Masses. The Young People's Fellowship is for the high school students of the Parish.

The library group will meet at the home of Mrs. Austin Munger, 1250 Medford Rd., Pasadena, on Wednesday, Dec. 10, at 10 a.m. In addition to their work on the church rental library, the group will study and discuss the Holy Scriptures, the first of the Church's teaching series.

GROUND HAS been broken and construction will start immediately on the new Santa Anita Church of Religious Science on a three-acre site at 226 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia. The Sanctuary symbolizes Christ's teaching of light, love and truth. Separate buildings will include the Sanctuary, Fellowship Hall, Youth Chapel, junior classrooms and administration buildings, connected by covered walks and patios.

Shepherd of Hills Church Holy Communion Sunday

"The Brightest Promise," second in a series of Advent season sermons on the theme of "Christ Comes to Us," will be preached by the Rev. Ray E. Hansen at 10 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 7, at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. Holy Communion will be offered for the last time this year at this service.

Lighting of the second candle in the Advent wreath will feature the opening of the worship. John Distel, Arcadia, a new acolyte, will light the candle heralding the coming of the Christ Child. David Horn, Arcadia, also an acolyte, will assist the pastor in the Lord's Supper.

The choir will present its first pre-Christmas anthem.

WOMEN OF the church will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 4, at the home of the Rollo Pickfords, 431 Grove, Sierra Madre, for their second meeting. The evening will feature opening devotions, a talk by the pastor, discussion of church projects and social hour with refreshments. All women of the church are invited.

CAROLERS OF the Luther League will rehearse at 7 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 7, at the church under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Clauson, Pasadena.

Baptist Church Plans Three-Day Crusade

A three-day series of special meetings will be held at the First Baptist Church of Sierra Madre, 270 N. Sierra Madre Blvd., this weekend beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, continuing at the same hour on Saturday, and through both worship services on Sunday at 10:50 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Special speaker will be the Rev. Wayne D. Pearson, pastor of First Southern Baptist Church in Pasadena, sponsoring church for the Sierra Madre congregation. Music will be directed by Joseph Daniel, representative of the City Missions program in music and education for Los Angeles County. Mr. Daniel served in the same capacity at a previous crusade at the First Baptist Church here. Among the special musical presentations will be those of a male quartet from Pasadena, and Mrs. Juanita Douthitt, Whittier soloist.

Rabbi Steckel's Sermon Topic

"Spiritual Dilemmas" will be the topic of Rabbi Charles W. Steckel's sermon Friday evening at the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel. Services start at 8:30 p.m.

The Adult Class of the Community Center will meet Tuesday, Dec. 9, at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Roberts, 157 Acacia, Monrovia.

Rabbi Steckel To Conduct Chanukah Rites

Special Chanukah services will be conducted at the City of Hope Medical Center by Rabbi Charles W. Steckel of the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, Sierra Madre, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 10.

Following the traditional holiday blessings by Rabbi Steckel, who serves as chaplain to the free, specialized Medical Center in Duarte, patients and staff will read messages on peace, faith, brotherhood and other themes symbolized by each of the eight candles in the menorah. The menorah, a candelabra used in the Chanukah ritual, was presented to the City of Hope by the Temple Beth Israel sisterhood.

Chanuka, known as the Festival of the Lights, commemorates the rededication of the Temple at Jerusalem in biblical times. The observance at the City of Hope will conclude with a musical entertainment and refreshments.

Blythe Ellen Foote Weds John Finke in New York

Announcement has been received of the marriage, in New York City, of Miss Blythe Ellen Foote of Sierra Madre and Lt. Col. John Finke, U.S.A., which was solemnized Nov. 15 in the Chapel of St. Cornelius the Centurion at Fort Jay on Governors Island with the chaplain, Col. Augustine Donnelly, officiating. A reception followed in the fort's Officers Club.

The bride is the daughter of Robert Ordway Foote, 360 Acacia St., and Mrs. William V. Mendenhall of Altadena. A native Pasadenan, she is a graduate of University of California where she majored in political science and was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega. For the last 10 years she served as foreign staff officer for the U.S. Information Agency in Austria, Turkey and Germany.

Col. Finke is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Detmar Heinrich Finke of Hamburg, Germany, and Alexandria, Va. He served throughout World War II in Africa and Europe and his decorations include the Distinguished Service Cross; Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster and Purple Heart with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

The bride wore a champagne-colored short length brocade dress with tiny veiled hat to match and shoes and gloves in the same shade. She carried white orchids.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Barbara Finke of Washington, D.C., wore blue lace with a white flower head-dress and carried purple orchids.

The bridegroom was attended by Major Omar Kennon, U.S.A., as best man.

The couple will make their home in New York City where Col. Finke is assigned where Col. Finke is assigned to army duty and where Mrs. Finke is now administrative assistant to the director of the Foreign Policy Association.

Christie Hellman Marks Birthday

Christie Anne Hellmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Hellmann, 400 W. Montecito, celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary at an afternoon party.

Those taking part in the prizes and surprises were Shadforth, Joe Morrissey, Kathy Williams, David Benson, Lori Cook, Bonnie Koyamatsu, Bruce Dewdney, LuAnne Hansen, Susan Gehring and the guest of honor's older sister, Claudia Joyce.

Social and Club Activities

Anoakia Plans Annual Dance

Anoakia's annual Christmas dance, "Christmas Carousell," will be held Dec. 12 at 8:30 p.m. in Anoakia Hall. The dance is being sponsored by the Student Council and the entire student body is invited. Music will be furnished by Marshall Cram and his orchestra. Santa Claus will present the door prize.

In the receiving line will be Mrs. Marjorie Winfield, headmistress; Miss Margaret Hill, dean of academic studies; Joanne Glass, president of student body; and her escort, Mike Hommer; Sheila Dwight, vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Glass; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tilley.

DIRECTOR OF FIRM

SACRAMENTO — (CNS)— Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced a Los Angeles County insurance broker firm, The Stout Company, has filed articles of incorporation with its office, to be capitalized at $75,000 in $25 par shares. The firm listed its directors as Ralph L. and Mary N. Stout, 9825 Cronshaw Blvd., Inglewood, and Mary E. Nickerson, 160 N. Mountain Trail, Sierra Madre.

The fellow with money to burn seldom sits by the fire.

British Home Open House Scheduled for Dec. 7

The British Home in California Ltd., 647 Manzanita, will have its traditional "Open House" Sunday from 2 until 5 p.m. with Mrs. John Paton, M.B.E. president of the home, welcoming the guests.

The occasion is the annual ingathering of supplies to help restock the pantry and linen closet shelves. All interested friends are invited and tea will be served throughout the afternoon.

Of special interest will be the ground-breaking ceremony for the new cottage unit to be constructed — a gift from Mrs. J. W. Jameson of Sierra Madre in memory of her late husband, James William Jameson, known for his pioneer oil companies in California and his many philanthropies.

FOLLOWING HIS retirement, he and his wife came to Sierra Madre in 1948 and made their home at 431 W. Highland.

This unit will be known as "Jameson Cottage" making the fifth dwelling unit at the home which was founded some 30 years ago, under the auspices of the western chapters of Daughters of the British Empire, and accommodates 30 guests of British birth.

The home has been materially aided by Sierra Madre Chapter, John Ruskin, D.B.E., of which Mrs. Edith Pictor Nelson, a resident of the home, is a charter member.

Guests invited to take part in the festivities include Mrs. J. W. Jameson, D. Lee Dolan, Consul General of Canada, Riversdale G. Stone, British Consul General, and Mrs. Stone; Mrs. J. P. Reynolds, state president Daughters of the British Empire; Mrs. William G. Stock, president of Woman's Canadian Club; Richard Wilson, president of Council of British Societies, Inc.; and representatives of all British Commonwealth Societies in Southern California.

THE REVEREND Alan Chalfont, curate of All Saints' Episcopal Church in Pasadena, who has conducted monthly services at the home will deliver the invocation.

Representatives from Sierra Madre will include Mayor Charles H. James and Dr. George N. Groth, attending physician to the home.

Mrs. William Stewart, first vice president of the home and member Annie Laurie Chapter, D.B.E., Los Angeles, is general chairman.

Troop Ship 391 Reorganized

Troop Ship 391 has been reorganized as a part of the advanced scouting program of Troop 373 under the sponsorship of the Congregational Church.

Sea scouts now in the group are Michael Goldberg, Richard Milford, Sam Kirk, Pete Ward, Jim Cook, Pete Barnett, Duncan Cason and Sumner Nash.

Boys age 14 who wish further information on this Troop may call Milton Goldberg, EL 5-1174.

DAUGHTERS OF 1812

Local 'Celebrities' Attend Reopening of Theater

History was made last week when Sierra Madre Theater had its opening. The Harry R. Snows and Hugh F. Colvins organized a party of local "celebrities" who outdid even the most glamorous of movie stars, eccentric producers, directors and all the others who make a Hollywood opening memorable.

The group arrived at the Snows' prior to "curtain time," and after a trek up the red carpet were served champagne. Following this, the top hatted, bejeweled and befeathered guests arrived at the theater to once again tread the red carpet which had been quickly transported from the Snows' for the occasion.

Among those taking part in the evening's fun were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ames who were driven to the affair in a shiny black limousine, complete with chauffeur, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. "Pete" Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Elwood, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Mac Cason.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. William Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Dietrich, Mr. and Mrs. Morley Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Eastwood, Mr. and Mrs. Dixie Tiller, Mrs. Edith Dane and George Black.

RETURNS HOME Mrs. Doris Linder, 60 S. Michillinda, has returned from a three-month trip through the South Pacific, Australia and New Zealand.

Following the 12 o'clock luncheon, Mrs. Franklin A. Franco, program chairman, will introduce Mrs. Lorenza De Isla Young, lecturer and interior designer for Bullock's Pasadena, who will demonstrate and speak on "Christmas Traditions and Decorations in the American Home."

Luncheon reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Orpha Sutton at ELgin 5-9126 before next Monday evening.

GARDEN CLUB

The Sierra Madre Garden Club will meet next Monday evening in Sierra Madre Woman's Clubhouse for its regular monthly dinner meeting beginning at 6:30.

Following the business meeting, presided over by the president, Leland Marsh, the program chairman, Mrs. Gretchen S. Newberry, will present Warren Asa, teacher in the ornamental horticulture department at Cal-Poly, Kellogg Campus, who will discuss "Winter color in our garden through planting" and show color slides.

Anyone interested may attend the program which will begin at 8 p.m. Members are reminded to wear a flower.

GFWC CONVENTION

Community development and international affairs will keynote the program of the general federation of women's clubs convention when it opens in Los Angeles next June 1 to 6 at Shrine Auditorium. The Biltmore and Statler-Hilton Hotels will be co-headquarters for this first GFWC convention held here in 35 years.

DAR YULE PARTY

Mrs. David R. Wood will open her Arcadia home, 6719 Brentmead, today to the annual Christmas party of Santa Anita Chapter, National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. George Spragins, past-regent, will preside at the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Edward Barnes, regent.

The Christmas program, including carols, will be presented by officers of Mark Hopkins Society, Children of the American Revolution, a protégé of Santa Anita Chapter.

Guest of honor for the afternoon will be Lynne Hege who recently was awarded the chapter's "good citizenship" honor.

In lieu of members exchanging gifts, donations will be made to needy organizations.

ST. RITA'S GUILD

Members of St. Rita's Guild have scheduled their annual Christmas luncheon and meeting for next Tuesday, beginning at 11:45 in the Parish Hall.

Hostesses for the event will be Mrs. D. Irwin and Mrs. William Volmert, sixth-grade room mothers.

Mrs. Victor Daniels, president, has announced homemade fruit cakes, cookies and candies will be sold before and after the meeting.

Mrs. A. DePasco, program chairman, has arranged for the presentation of "The Christmas Story" by first grade children, under the supervision of Sister Denise. The Choir Girls will sing, accompanied by Sister Carol and conducted by Sister Irma.

All parishioners and their friends are invited.

AAUW

"Christmas Around the World" is the theme of the buffet dinner meeting of Pasadena Branch, American Association of University Women, to be held tomorrow evening in the Stuart Co. building, 3369 E. Foothill.

The purpose of the dinner is to help raise funds for the new AAUW Educational Center, National Headquarters, Washington, D.C., as well as to spend an evening of fellowship and enjoyment.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB

Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club met in the Park House for its Christmas party. Tea was served by Miss Mildred Webber and Mrs. Ruth Matter. Hostesses for the event were the board members under the direction of Mrs. Etta Leguin, vice president.

Dr. Raymond Pease, at the piano, led the Christmas music.

Prior to the party, board members, Mrs. Leguin, Mrs. Ina Bailey, secretary; Mrs. Matter, treasurer; Miss Webber, corresponding secretary;

Mrs. Edith Pictor Nelson, publicity; and Dr. Pease, organist, met to discuss plans for filling the vacant presidential chair.

LEGION AUXILIARY

American Legion Auxiliary members will meet Dec. 11 at 8 p.m. in the Clarence Noshier home, 285 N. Mt. Trail. Plans will be made at this time for the annual Christmas party. Mrs. Vivian Johnson will be hostess.

MUSIC TEACHERS

Music Teachers' Association of California, Pasadena Branch, will present Dr. Prpha Ochse, organist-choir-master of First Congregational Church, and Joseph Dockstader, soprano, in a concert of Christmas music at First Congregational Church, Walnut and Los Robles, Saturday evening at 8.

Della Howell Robinson, program chairman, has announced the public is invited to attend the program.

Helen Clair Lowe, president, will preside over the festive occasion and Ruth Banbury and Bernice Tower will serve as hostesses.

FOOTHILL CLUB

Foothill Toastmistress Club will meet Dec. 8 at 7 p.m. for a dinner meeting at Yve's Restaurant in Duarte.

The program chairman, Miss Marion Kelly of Sierra Madre, has announced an unusual workshop on parliamentary law, in the form of a skit, will be presented at this meeting.

Guests and members of other toastmistress clubs in the vicinity will be most welcome to share the evening's program. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. John Kinsley, president, at ED 7-7555, or the hostess, Mrs. Mel Merrill, at ED 5-4630.

Soup to Nonsense . . .

Who Says Clothes Aren't Disposable?

By Jane Goodsell

The other day I read an article describing what life will be like a hundred years from now. Among the marvels (atomic stoves and vitamin-enriched cigarettes) in store for our great-grandchildren, the article spoke of disposable clothing.

Well, I hate to seem cynical about the wonderful world of the future, but we've had disposable clothing around our house for years. What's more, our disposable clothing is a lot nicer than that fabricated paper stuff the article was so excited about.

TAKE THAT orlon sweater I bought for Katie a couple of weeks ago. It was a nice sweater. A little card, attached to one of its buttons, guaranteed that the sweater was washable, shrinkproof, mothproof and mildewproof. It didn't claim that the sweater was disposable, but Katie, who hadn't read the card, disposed of it quickly and neatly. She left the sweater on the bus.

What isn't so disposable, though, is the little guarantee tag. I tacked it up on the kitchen bulletin board, and it's been there ever since.

All our mittens and gloves and socks have built-in disposability. Well, no, come to think of it, that's not true.

Usually only one of a pair is disposable. It disappears as if by magic, but its mate seems to have no disposability and sometimes hangs around for years.

I honestly don't see how galoshes of the future could be any more disposable than galoshes are nowadays. Or rubbers or umbrellas either, for that matter. I had an umbrella last winter that I managed to dispose of the first time I used it. It was a good umbrella. Built to last for years, the saleslady said. Of course, it cost a little more, but it was worth it. If I had that umbrella today, I'll bet it would still be good as new.

OF COURSE, we have lots of other disposable items besides clothing. There's that watch we got for Ann when she graduated from grade school. It was waterproof, shockproof, non-magnetic and self-winding, and she left it on the beach the week after school was out. How could anything be more disposable than that?

I disposed of my new fountain pen the day I bought it, but I can't seem to dispose of its velvet-lined box and its warranty certificate. What's more, I have a couple of 29-cent ball-points which aren't disposable either. I keep tossing them into wastepaper baskets and the next thing I know they are back under the children's beds.

My own theory is that, to get real disposability, you have to pay a fancy price. Disposability doesn't come cheap, and I doubt if those disposable clothes made of paper are going to be a success. For one thing they don't sound soft and comfy.

BUT, MORE important, I don't think they'll be truly disposable. Stop and think for a moment. What sort of things do you have the most trouble getting rid of? Old newspapers and magazines. Old letters and incomplete decks of cards and Christmas greetings from years back. Right? And what material are these things made of? You've guessed it. Paper!

Linen handkerchiefs disappear before your very eyes, but wads of cleansing tissue are forever floating around under beds and being left in pockets to gum up the washing machine.

Cashmere, wool, orlon, nylon and linen are all highly disposable. But paper? No, I'm afraid it won't work.

GOP May Try Tax Stall in State Assembly

SACRAMENTO — (CNS)—Already, the Republicans left in the state Legislature are thinking of ways and means to make it rough for the victorious Democrats in the 1960 elections.

With a Democratic majority of 47-33 in the Assembly, there were indications at the committee hearings held in the Capitol last week that the Republicans may try to stave off tax increases at the 1959 session of the Legislature, go into deficit financing for the 1959-60 fiscal year, and stall tax increases if possible until 1960 when the budget session of the Legislature meets.

This would throw the responsibility of new or increased taxes right on the backs of the Democrats in a campaign year and obviously, would make for no particular good will for the Bourbons.

BUT OF COURSE, whether the Republican contingent in the Assembly can work out the maneuver or not is still to be seen. With a minority in the Assembly two years ago, the Democrats were able to get or stop most of the legislation they wanted.

The procedure would be for the state to use up every available reserve, and the reserves are lower now than they have been in many years as well as earmarked for purposes other than the general fund, and go into deficit financing when the money runs out.

Some financial experts have agreed that the state might be able to do this for one year without the procedure having serious effects on the state's credit.

Others, however, feel that deficit financing would result in higher interest rates on the bond issues to be sold during the next two years, with resultant higher costs to the taxpayers, and also higher interest costs on veteran farm and home financing.

BUT ON the Democratic side of the fence, the talk is for new taxes during the 1959 session of the Legislature, to make up what conceivably could be a deficit of between $250 and $300 million by the end of the 1959-60 fiscal year, if no additional levies are laid.

Discussion of the cigarette tax, which has been going on for several years, is under way again, and some talk has been bruited about concerning a possible increase in the state's sales tax of three per cent.

The Legislature has been warned, however, that an increase in the sales tax from three to four per cent would have adverse effects on the state's economy, and it is held such a move would decrease business. It was pointed out there is only so much money in circulation, and if the state siphons off another $200 million, there will be that much less to spend for goods and services, with a resultant lowering of income, rather than a proportionate increase if the sales tax were raised.

A free press in a free world is a beacon light for freedom.

Local Boy Scouts Begin Yule Seal Campaign

Holiday-colored posters and window signs reminding residents to answer their Christmas Seal letters are being placed in local stores and offices by Boy Scouts from Sierra Madre, according to Los Angeles Postmaster Otto K. Olesen, honorary chairman of the 1958 Christmas Seal campaign.

Christmas Seal letters have been mailed to 1,200,000 county residents by the Tuberculosis and Health Association of Los Angeles County which is celebrating its 50th year in the fight to combat TB, the Nation's No. 1 contagious disease.

Goal of the current Christmas Seal campaign is $850,000.

Blooming Poinsettia Means Christmas in California

Just who first discovered it or when, we don't know. But to most Americans, a Poinsettia in full bloom has Christmas written all over it. And if you need any reminder that the season is near, just check in with a local member of the California Association of Nurserymen.

During the coming weeks, nurserymen will do a brisk trade in these potted symbols of the Yuletide. And since they do so well out doors in most of Southern California—especially those areas not too far from the coast—you not only buy seasonal decoration but make a permanent investment as well.

CERTAINLY in no other part of the state—and in few parts of the country—can you enjoy as much success with Poinsettia as in Southern California. This is especially true with those lush, double-flowered varieties that are so showy.

Poinsettias prefer a rich loose soil with leaf mold and/or steer manure and sand added. Give them a non-windy location and head them back during the growing season to encourage bushy growth. When bloom is over in late winter, prune them back severely.

In areas where hard frost is common you may lose the Poinsettia that's planted outdoors. In such a case try saving your Christmas Poinsettia and grow it on as a potted plant for bloom a second year. One Southern California nurseryman suggests the following procedure for all who wish to try this.

WHEN THE PLANT has finished blooming, let it dry out by storing pot and plant in a garage or basement. After three or four months—toward the end of April or in early May—lift the dormant plant, wash the old soil off its roots and repot into a larger container, using a mix of half loam and a quarter each of leaf mold and sand. Prune the top back to within four or five inches of the soil.

Commence watering again and keep the plant in a warm sunny spot outside. By Christmas next year, you should find it ready for bloom once again.

Southland Holiday . . .

Colored Lights, Floats Mark Yule Season

Southern California will enjoy its most beautiful and interesting array of Christmas displays and celebrations this year, the All-Year Club reported yesterday. There will be miles of colored lights, live reindeer, parades of floats on land and water, and a whole town fashioned into a replica of Bethlehem.

The All-Year Club uses the Southland's unusual and colorful events in its work of building the half-billion dollar a year tourist business. Visitors from other states enjoy touring the unique outdoor Christmas displays and celebrations.

The town that becomes Bethlehem is Joshua Tree on the San Bernardino County desert. From Dec. 18 to 24 the shops and buildings are transformed into those of the Holy Land and costumed townsfolk act out the scenes nightly.

LIVE REINDEER including Rudolph of the red nose and Little Violet of the lavender ears will be at Santa's side beside a giant North Pole Nov. 28 to Dec. 24 in Panorama City.

A cast of 80 will present a Nativity pageant Dec. 25-28 at Fernwood and Bullis Road in Lynwood, helped by a cast of live animals—Roman Centurion's horse, cow in the manger, sheep and Mary and Joseph's donkey which sometimes forgets his cue.

Fullerton Kiwanis members stage a similar pageant in a natural setting at Hillcrest park, under lights and with loudspeakers so spectators can park in their cars on the roadway and enjoy the event.

At Santa Monica 14 giant scenes of the Nativity will be set up by the churches in Fallsides cliff park beside the ocean. A Nativity Play based upon the Middle Ages will be staged in the Civic Auditorium Dec. 19-20.

ALTADENA'S FAMOUS Mile of Christmas Trees along Santa Rosa Avenue is expected to be lighted again, from Dec. 24 to Jan. 1, after being dark last year.

Glendale's Brand Blvd. is scheduled to be transformed into the traditional "Tunnel of Lights" from Nov. 28 on. Householders vie in a citywide home lighting decoration contest.

Providing a sight that could occur only in a sub-tropical land such as this where pepper trees grow, Ontario fashions three miles of the lacy giants along Euclid Ave. into unique lighted Christmas trees the last two weeks of December.

One of the most unusual lanes is at Palm Desert where king-sized Christmas cards painted by local artists will be lined up in a gallery along both sides of the main street from Dec. 20 on.

SANTA CLAUS takes to a motorboat to lead a parade of lighted Christmas floats on yachts and cruisers winding through the canals of Naples and out onto Alamo Bay at Long Beach Dec. 21 and 22.

Over 100 stars join in the opening parade lasting one and one-half hours the night of Nov. 26 down Hollywood Boulevard's "Santa Claus Lane" and its rows of giant lighted metal Yule trees.

Van Nuys holds its famed Bethlehem Star parade Dec. 6 with 30 to 40 floats, each fashioned by a local church and depicting a scene from the Nativity. Aboard them will be live characters, costumed and made up by movie stars living in the valley.

Corona's Pageant of Faith Dec. 5 is also a parade of floats depicting scenes from the Bible.

Lancaster's parade Dec. 13 features floats portraying Nativity scenes fashioned by 10 to 15 Antelope Valley churches.

HUNTINGTON BEACH'S Salute to Santa Claus Dec. 5 is a night parade of bands, nothing but bands, 50 of them in bright uniforms. Each plays its own concert through the line of march. Huntington Park usually draws 300,000 people to its parade to be held Nov. 29 along brilliantly decorated Pacific Blvd. There will be 100 searchlights, 22 bands, 21 floats, riders and stars.

Bakersfield holds its parade Dec. 2 down a Pepper-mint Lane. It is so popular there will be 5,000 special bleacher seats.

At El Centro, there being no snow, Santa comes in a 100-year-old stagecoach once used by Billy the Kid, in the parade Dec. 5.

At La Jolla the same day he leads a parade of floats, riders and clowns to the center of town and lights up a huge Christmas tree.

Encinita's St. Nick parade Dec. 14, dedicated to children, is made up of floats and decorated horses and riders. The parade route uniquely makes a circle.

Forests Earn Billionth Dollar

Sometime this week the U.S. Forest Service expects the billionth dollar from National Forest receipts to be deposited in the U.S. Treasury.

Angeles National Forest Supervisor Richard F. Droege said that this shows the National Forests provide an income to the Government as well as providing public recreation areas, a perpetual supply of timber, watershed and flood protection.

Since the California National Forests were founded about 50 years ago almost 146 million dollars have been turned into the Treasury as a result of their use.

National Forest receipts come from the sale of timber, grazing permit fees, land use permit fees, recreation concessions, and the sale of other forest products. Droege pointed out that 25 per cent of National Forest income is returned to the counties within the State for schools and roads. Also, 10 per cent is spent within the Forest where money was earned for road and trail maintenance and development.

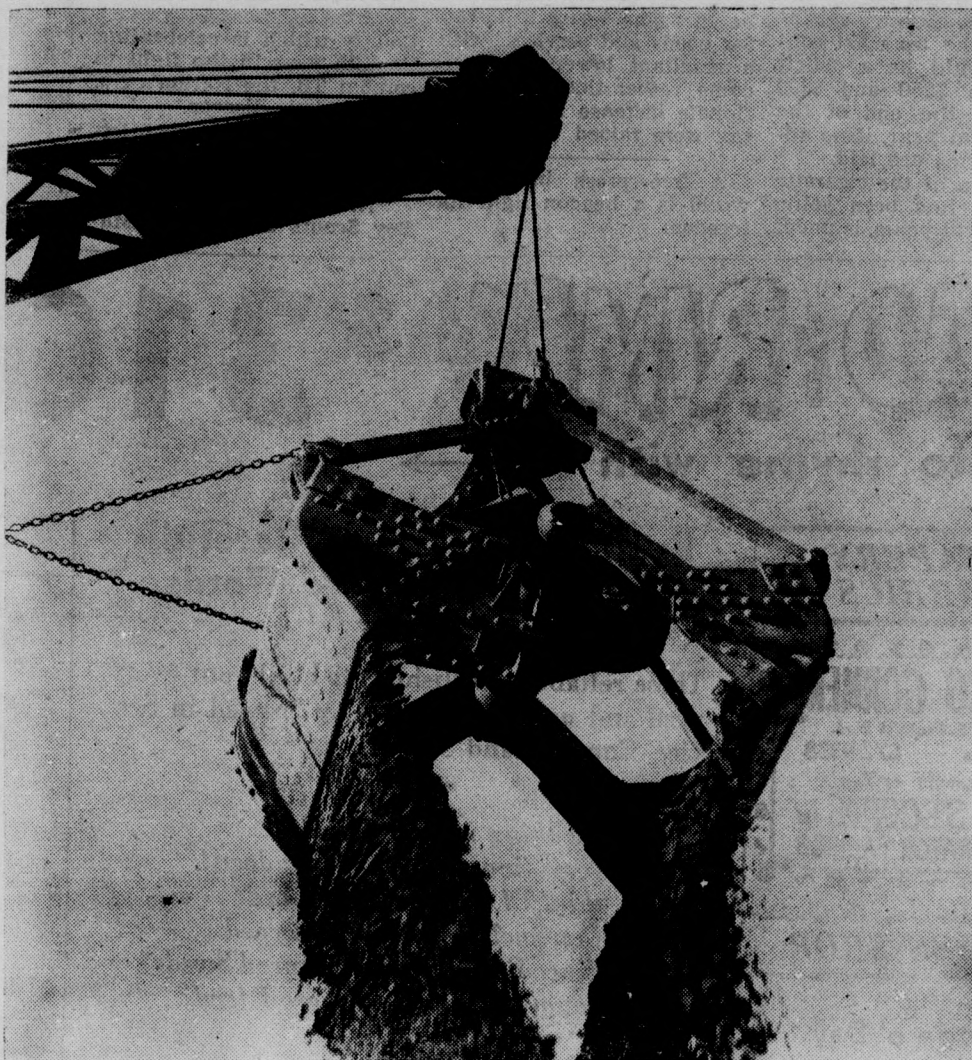

Due to increased activity and development of the National Forests, the Forest Service estimates that the second billion dollars will be collected within the next 10 years. Along with this will come the added advantages of a sustained timber supply, improved watersheds, expanded recreation areas, and places of natural beauty for everyone to enjoy.

How May We Get in Tune With This Scheme of Things?

There is a fascination in watching a power shovel at work. So awkward appearing yet so graceful and precision-like. Its action might be compared to the movement of the Heavenly bodies. Here too we have split-second precision. As we observe the giant and marvelous Universe machine we may ask "what is the source of power that makes it function so perfectly? Who controls it all?" When we try to answer these questions, this much we do know, that we each have a part to play in this overall pattern.

How may we place ourselves in harmony with the power that created and operates this Universe? We don't know all the answers but we do know that living in harmony and cooperating with one another is a step forward — that we have an institution to help us gain this goal — the Church of each person's choice. More and more people are putting themselves in tune with this scheme of things by attending church. If you are not now attending regularly why not give it a trial?

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

CHURCH NEWS

Congregational Church Plans Advent Program

The three Sundays between now and Christmas at the Congregational Church will feature special Christmas music by both the Chancel and the Chapel Choirs, special Advent decorations in the sanctuary, and a series of sermons on "The Longing for Christmas," by the Rev. George W. Lindsay, pastor.

On Dec. 7, Mr. Lindsay will preach on "Come, Emanuel"; on Dec. 14th on "Come, Wisdom From On High," and on Dec. 21st, "Come, Desire of Nations." The sermons will be based on the ancient Latin antiphon, "O Come, O Come, Emanuel."

New members will be received into the fellowship of the church at both services this coming Sunday, Dec. 7.

SHEPHERD OF HILLS

dena. The regular Luther League meeting will follow at 8 p.m. The carolers plan to sing at institutions and homes of members during the Christmas season.

***
THREE CHRISTMAS services have been set by the church council at Shepherd of the Hills. The children and youth program will be presented at 7 p.m. Christmas Eve. There also will be a candlelight service that same evening at 11 p.m. and an 8 a.m. worship on Christmas Day.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RECLASSIFICATION
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to the provisions of Ordinance No. 558, of the City of Sierra Madre, as amended, that the Planning Commission of the City of Sierra Madre has fixed Thursday, December 18, 1958, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. in the Council Chambers in the City Hall, 55 West Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, California, as the time and place for holding a public hearing on the reclassification of R-1 (7500 sq. ft.) to R-1-1 (11,000 sq. ft.) for property described as the north and south sides of Manzanita Avenue, between Lima Avenue and Avenida.

Said proposed reclassification is based upon the grounds that there are special circumstances attached to said property which generally do not apply to other properties in the same district and vicinity; that the granting of a reclassification as aforesaid will not result in a material damage or prejudice to the public welfare or to persons in the vicinity thereof.

Children's Theatre Presents 'Spanish Accent' Dec. 5-6

Children's Theatre, an experiment in creative art for area children, including a dozen or more from Sierra Madre, will give its first performance Friday, Dec. 5.

"Spanish Accent," a collection of short plays, adapted and original, will be presented at the Arcadia High School Little Theatre. Friday evening's performance will start at 7:30 o'clock, and a matinee will be held Saturday at 2:30.

The play within the play is an adaptation of "The Birthday of the Infanta" by Oscar Wilde. Marvin Brody, Drama Workshop director, is working with the following cast: the infanta, Kathy Turner; the chamberlain, David Stewart; Carlos, Michael Brody; Don Pedro, Stuart Roach; the duchess, Rose Marie Wittig; and the dwarf, Joseph Dauben.

APPEARING IN plays which they have made up themselves, to be given first in English then in Spanish, are Bobbie Burr, Valeria Koch, Stephanie Mishuck, Susan and Carol Moore, Tom Morse, Eileen Newman, Mike Bristow, Melanie Steinkuhler, Carol Stewart and John Watkins of Group I. Also, Janet Bettencourt, Geoffrey Bragg, Cecilia Callaghy, Katie Carr, Laura De Virgilio, Marjo Koch, Carolyn Martin, Cynthia and Kitty Lou Wittig, Judy Griffith, Cheryl Gad, Cheryl Ames, Janet Bragg, Dan Keatinge, Renee Vallois, Jeff Burke, Nancy Carr, Larry Mishuck, Kathy Brown, Allison and Kevin Snow, Cathy and Bruce Wallace, Kim Hawkins, Jaimie Hedges, Susan Howard, Richard Goldfarb and Grant Moore.

A comparatively small amount of time is spent on the usual routine rehearsals. In fact, the approximately 75 youngsters taking part will be on the stage only twice together before their opening night.

MOST TIME is spent on the contribution of each child to the success of the play. Some design, build and paint the simple sets, others work out the lighting and sound effects, many make props and simple costumes, others make up dialogue, songs and write parts of the play.

The Stagecraft Workshop, directed by Evelyn Mishuck, assisted by Bob Martin, will be active back-stage as the play goes on.

A puppet show by some of the youngest members of Children's Theatre will be presented in the lobby preceding the play. Evelyn Hawkins and Ruth Burr are the leaders of Puppetry Workshop whose membership includes Craig Smith, Douglas McAdam, Vernon Marsh, Leigh Landi, Tommy Marchese, Mike Bristow, John Morris and Andy Carr. Other puppeteers, led by Wanda Martin, include Janet Bettencourt, Cynthia Wittig, Caroline Martin, Geoffrey Bragg, Kathy Brown, Jerry Moore and Lucy Burr is their student assistant.

Tickets for "Spanish Accent" may be purchased from Children's Theatre members or by telephone, ELgin 5-9729.

Shopping Center Plans Opening In January

Construction is advancing rapidly on the Hastings Ranch Shopping Center in Pasadena, at Foothill and Rosemead Blvds., it was announced by Murphy Bros., Ltd., owners-builders of the west portion of the center, which includes all stores except the new Sears-Robuck sales and parking facility.

This 16-acre development was planned by Stiles and Robert Clements, architects-engineers noted for shipping center and industrial plant design. It is said to be one of the few two-level shopping centers of this type in the U.S.

Cost of construction alone is in excess of $6,000,000. Parking facilities are at both levels and stores are accessible by ramps, stairs and escalators.

The lower level, approximately 69,000 square feet, will provide space for Bank of America, Gallenkamp's and Woolworth's.

The upper level, approximately 55,000 sq. ft., will house Ontra Cafeteria and Restaurant, Owl-Rexall Drug Co. and the A&P market. Over nine acres of the center are devoted to the Sears facility.

Stark Infant Dies Unexpectedly

Marlene Annette Stark, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Stark died unexpectedly Nov. 24 in the Stark home at 71 N. Lima. The baby was 3 months old.

Graveside services were held Nov. 26 in Resurrection Cemetery, with Father Francis Walsh officiating. The Ripple Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

The Starks have two other children, a daughter, Mary Ann, and a son, William. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Mazza of Los Angeles; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Stark, Glendale.

convenience, since it will prevent Sierra Madre and the other three cities from joining a proposed Greater San Gabriel Valley District and eventually the Metropolitan Water District.

Officials of the four cities contend there is no need for them to join the Metropolitan District and thus be subjected to taxes and outside control, particularly since all four at present have adequate water supplies.

Under state law, a water district cannot absorb another, although a district, through an election of all the people in the proposed new district, could force a city with its own water system, such as Sierra Madre, to join with it.

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
SY 7-9634

I find myself in a sudden state of shock as I realize that Christmas is just three weeks from today. Not only am I completely unprepared, but the thought of facing a turkey again in that length of time does something disagreeable to my appetite. This is the time when you see all those "do-it-tomorrow" kicking themselves briskly around the block, and believe me it hurts.

Somehow I always end up in this chaotic state at the end of the year with all my good intentions of self organization and planning ahead down the drain like yesterday's dishwater. Well, on to brighter things: ***

THE DON JAXTHEIMERS of Old House Road took a temporary leave of absence from the neighborhood last week. They have rented their house for three months and will spend the time in Laguna hunting sea shells??? Their address is 627 Sleepy Hollow Lane, Laguna Beach. They hope that their many friends in the vicinity will drop in on them during their vacation. ***

MR. AND MRS. GARDNER P. Wilson, also of Old House Road, spent the Thanksgiving holiday with Mr. Wilson's parents in Fresno. They returned in time to go to the airport to meet Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Bills from Glen View, Illinois. They have rented the Jaxtheimer home for the next three months.***

ALSO VISITING parents for the holidays were the Joseph M. Phelps family. They visited Mr. Phelps' mother in Long Beach. Mrs. Phelps' father, Captain Paul E. Flux, U.S. Navy, retired, arrived this week from Boston. He will stay with the Phelps till after the first of the year, at which time he plans to take an extended South Pacific cruise. ***

JANE AND GEORGE Holmes are off on a wonderful trip. Jane left last to join George in Boston. From there they will go on to New York for a few days, Philadelphia, on to Washington where they will stay with the Henry Korns. They will then visit New Orleans and Dallas on their way home. They expect to arrive back here on the 11th. Mrs. Holmes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle M. Anderson are staying with the children in their absence. ***

MR. WILLIAM FRIEDRICH of Barhite is now home from the hospital where he underwent surgery. ***

THE OSBURN family took off for Thanksgiving last week. Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Osburn went up to Barstow to spend the weekend with friends. Their object in addition to Thanksgiving was to find equipment for making Christmas decorations and to look for turtles. Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Osburn went to New Orleans to see their daughter off to far Brazil. She has been visiting in this country for two months. ***

The best laid plans of mice and men — the Walter Dorn's spent a quiet weekend at home after cancelling plans to go to Stockton. The old flu bug lit and ruined their trip. ***

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD L. Rucks of Claremea Lane recently had a tea to honor Mrs. Rucks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Flanders, on their fortieth wedding anniversary. There were 25 guests to join in the celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Flanders live in Pasadena Glen. ***

DR. AND MRS. CASIMIR Harris of Kinneola Mesa joined forces with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stutts of Claremea Lane on Thanksgiving for a family gathering. ***

THE JOHN FRICKS of Barhite spent a family Thanksgiving at home with their relatives. Mrs. Frick asked me to thank all of the women who worked so tirelessly on her Community Chest team this month. The results of the drive were most gratifying. ***

The Spelts Parkers of Country Lane had 22 guests

Troop 323
Has Trip

Members of Girl Scout Troop 323 recently enjoyed an overnight at Singing Pines in the Angeles National Forest. Starting on a Saturday morning, by bus along with other scouts from the area (including senior scouts), the girls traveled to the camp, accompanied by much singing and "chatter."

The schedule from there on was a busy one with all meals being cooked out-of-doors by the girls on a wood stove and open fire. Besides an evening gathering in the main lodge, the girls enjoyed hiking, campcraft and the usual outdoor activities.

Though "chilly" in the night, it was reported the girls were happy they could participate with their leaders, Penny Carley and Eleanor Burke, assisted by Doris Harris.

Those participating were Carol Cairncross, Patsy Carley, Anne Harris, Andrea Judd, Jane Knight, Gai Lewis, Toni Loomis, Maureen McKelvey, Cheryl McKibbin, Cathy McLane, Deanna Rowan, Sharon Seiler, Gale Tampico, Nancy Taylor and Sarah Walker.

Edison Company
To Build Atomic
Power Plant

Southern California Edison Co. has joined with more than 50 other investor-owned utilities, representing all sections of the United States, to develop and build a new type of nuclear power plant which will be directed toward providing a "major cut to the nation's goal of economic electricity from the atom," it was announced yesterday.

The announcement was made by Edison President Harold Quinton, who said the proposed plan will have a gas (helium) cooled reactor system which is expected to be of unusually simple and compact design.

The prototype plant, designed to produce 40,000 kilowatts of electricity, will cost $24,500,000 exclusive of initial research and development costs. Edison was described as a "major participant" in the plan, which was filed in Washington with the Atomic Energy Commission in response to an AEC invitation to private industry to undertake construction of such a plant.

UP ON ...

Hastings Hill

We trust all of you have used Toni Maurin's recipes for left over turkey. The only trouble with her Kullinary Kettle column last week was that she was overly optimistic as to HOW LONG the turkey would last and didn't provide enough recipes. Either the turkeys are bigger or the Thanksgiving guests don't eat as much because this year's bird has certainly "stretched." If you see something large floating through the air, it isn't the "Blob" — only me getting used to my "wings" and trying out my gobble.

It does look as though Santa's little helpers, in the form of husbands and their lawfully wedded spouses, have arrived in the Ranch and are working frantically on their outdoor holiday decorations. There are only two week-ends more to get the job done since judging in the upper Ranch will be the evening of Dec. 22. The contest in the lower Ranch was discontinued last year because it was felt interest was lagging. However, it is hoped lights, Santa and his reindeer, snow men and other appropriate decorations will be seen in the area.

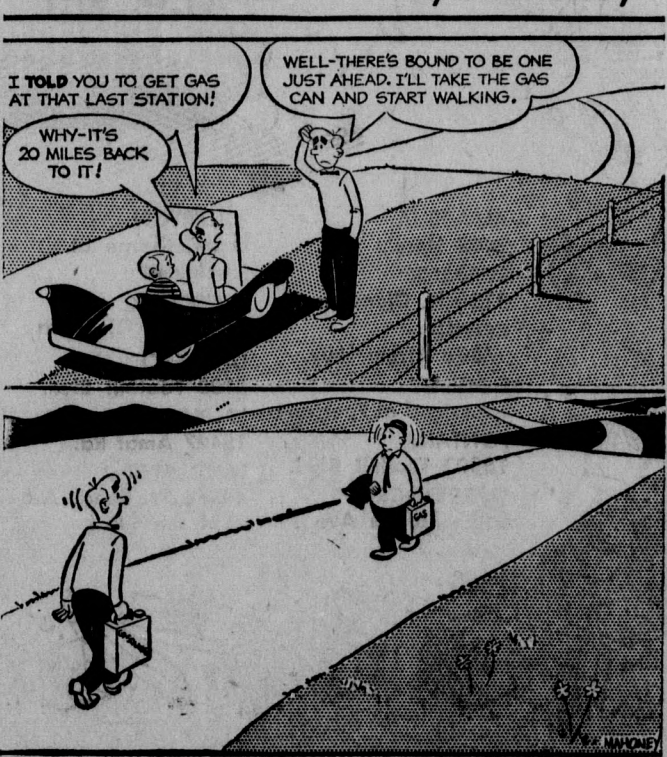

The Stanley Johnsons and children, Lucy and Reed, spent part of the holiday at Palm Springs as did the Paul Kaponyas with Joannie and Paul.

Barbara and Don Clark, Lisa too, made their annual trek to Northern California to spend Thanksgiving with Barbara's family.

Gwen and Bill Shiner's cocktail party was a huge success. Everyone had dug out their holiday clothes as well as spirit. According to the invitations things were to start tapering off around ten but the champagne "kept rolling along" till 1:30.

It's a cinch no little boy has been more welcome than the new Rowley baby. The enthusiasm doesn't stop with Marge and Neal but continues.

Toastmaster
Members
Meet Dec. 10

Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club enjoyed the pre-Thanksgiving holiday festive feeling at their regularly scheduled Wednesday night get-together. The fun began with a standing toast by all present in honor of the 29th birthday anniversary of John DuBois (one of the oldest members of the club).

Table topics portion of the program was handled by Richard Friend. Trophy in this department was presented to newly-elected secretary, John Logsdon. Formal speeches of the evening included an "Ice Breaker" by new member, Bob Stanaway. Henry Nash, Dow Wright and Fred Hardesty completed the speaking roster.

San Marino Fire Department Captain Fred Hardesty took home the "best speaker" trophy and Hank Nash was awarded the most improved speaker trophy. New membership pins along with a resounding welcome were given to Joe Carram, Bruce Barker, Bill Bowers and Bob Stanaway. The last order of business for the evening was the election of Vic Harris to the post of administrative vice president, an office just recently vacated by the resignation of Bob Chisler.

Sierra Madre Toastmasters meet Wednesday evening, Dec. 10, at the Hillcrest Restaurant on Foothill Blvd. in Pasadena. In January they will play host to the Foothill Toastmistress Club. Visitors are welcome at all times.

Don Benito
PTA to Show
'Melody Time'

Don Benito PTA is presenting Walt Disney's full length myth-musical, "Melody Time," to children of Hastings Ranch on Saturday.

There will be two showings, one at 9:30 and the other at 11, with admission 25 cents.

"Melody Time" is a delightful musical with cartoons as well as real characters. Pecos Bill and Johnny Appleseed are the main cartoon features and in the "real people" department are Roy Rogers and Trigger, Dennis Day, Sons of the Pioneers and many other of your favorite stars. It will be shown in the Don Benito Cafetorium.

Field PTA
Meets Wed.
At Steffens'

Mrs. Jack Steffens, a vice president of Eugene Field PTA, will be hostess at her home, 720 Rim, for the December meeting of the executive board, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Coffee and light refreshments will be served at the opening of the meeting, with the business session set for 10 a.m. Dr. Joseph Michaels, school principal, will speak to the group and other interested parents of the school, on "Homework" for a half-hour at 11 a.m., to be followed by another half-hour of questions from the floor.

Special business of the meeting will be final arrangements for the annual faculty and staff Christmas luncheon to be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Cummins, 605 Rim.

Pre-school age children of mothers attending the meeting will be cared for at the home of Mrs. Samuel Joseph, 800 Rim.

Shakespeare Club Juniors
Plan Annual Christmas Ball

Sparkling silver and red will accent the Shakespeare Club Juniors' annual Christmas Ball, being held this year at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Saturday, under the direction of Mrs. T. A. D. Fessenden, chairman. Dinner at 8:30 will follow the 7:30 cocktail hour.

Putting finishing touches on the silvered pine cones and boughs for this first affair of the Juniors' Christmas season is Mrs. Fred E. Bell, decorations chairman. Assisting her is Mrs. Paul C. Ricks Jr.

Others at work taking reservations and making arrangements are Mrs. Henry C. Foes Jr., Mrs. Thomas D. Muirhead and Mrs. Richard L. Seaman.

Juniors and their husbands will dance to the music of George Laughlin and the Melody Crew. Among those making early reservations are Mrs. Lawrence B. Hendricksen, president, Mr. Hendricksen; Mrs. Gale L. Wopscall, treasurer, Mr. Wopscall; Mrs. Stanley A. Newlin Jr., past president, Mr. Newlin; Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. George, Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Hickman and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Williams.

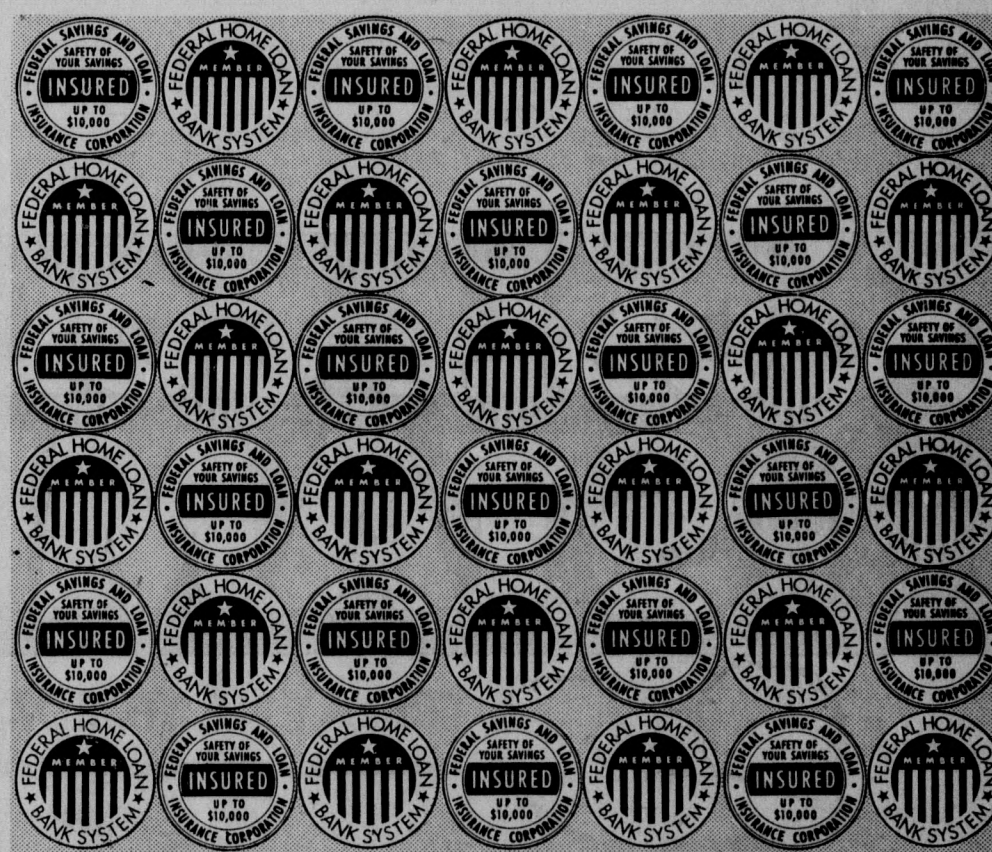

Juniors elected the nominating committee of next year's board at yesterday's business meeting in Stratford House.

Corsages of Christmas ornaments and greenery were table prizes at the holiday bridge party held after the meeting. Mrs. Stuart N. Cypherd, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Edward C. Vail and Mrs. Paul F. Keller.

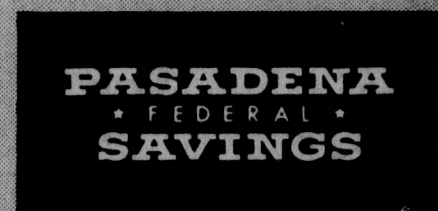

Social service section will have a work night at the clubhouse Dec. 11 at 7:45 p.m.

Your Health . . .

Keep Home Happy and Safe Over Holidays

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

What are your plans for the approaching holidays to keep them happy and safe? Undoubtedly your shopping list is carefully made out, gifts and meals well thought out, but what have you done to assure the health and happiness of you and your loved ones?

What have you done to avert tragedy during the coming holidays? Your Christmas tree will be one of the prettiest ever, but remember last year you had some trouble with the string of lights. You planned to have the wiring checked for safety, but did you?

What about the electric switch that was always sputtering sparks? Fire is a vicious enemy, but one that can be overcome through precaution.

HOW ABOUT that rickety ladder? Remember it toppled a few times as you trimmed the tree last year and several times since when you used it to place things on high shelves. You've been lucky you didn't fall. Better check the ladder. Broken bones are painful, so why not avoid them?

Fatigue is a holiday spoiler and one that you can sidestep if you plan your chores wisely. Your body is a wonderful machine that adjusts nicely to an increased pace of living, but why overload it? Hurry, crowded activity and tension contribute to fatigue. And forcing yourself to do one more thing, when you are already tired, helps to decrease your resistance.

What happens? You set yourself up as an easy target for the host of germs and viruses whose home is your body. They thrive on your fatigue. They invade, attack and spread. Infection runs rampant. You are the unwilling victim of colds, influenza, pneumonia, gastrointestinal upsets and a host of other conditions. But you asked for it by getting overly tired.

The giving of gifts is fun. Bestowing pleasure on others is delightful, particularly to children. But are the toys you selected the right ones? Are you sure that happiness will result when curious and eager little hands tear apart the packages you've wrapped so gayly? Have you avoided toys with sharp points and tiny removable parts? Telling the child to be careful is not enough. Prevent an accident by buying a suitable and safe toy.

TO KEEP your home safe and happy, check all possible areas for accident. Avoid falls by checking your stair wells. Are they well lighted? Do you keep them free of toys and odds and ends that will cause someone to trip? Are your floors so highly polished that they encourage falls? Remember this type of accident is one of the most common and severe.

Now that you've checked your home for safety, what can you do to decrease traffic accidents? If you plan to drive during the holidays, be sure your car is in good condition and allow yourself sufficient time to avoid haste. Heed traffic warnings, and (this can bear repeating over and over again) if you're driving, don't drink. That last cocktail may be your undoing.

Gives Tips on Yule Mail

Some tips on Christmas mailings this year were issued yesterday by Postmaster Charles E. Louk.

To assure yourself of fast, worry-free Christmas mailings, Mr. Louk suggested these steps.

1. Parcels should be insured. Sealed parcels may be mailed at the third or fourth class postage rates without labels, notations, or endorsements of any kind authorizing the opening of parcels for postal inspection. Packages sealed with modern sealing materials carry better in the mail than unsealed ones. Strong cord should be used.

2. Combination mail, one of the newer services of the Post Office Department, may often be used to good advantage. It permits a mailer to enclose a letter or a message inside a gift parcel simply by paying the appropriate letter rate postage, plus the postage for the package itself.

3. Certified mail, another of the newer postal services, which permits mailers to obtain proof of delivery of Christmas letters or cards having no intrinsic value for a postal fee of 20 cents, plus first-class postage, also may often offer advantages.

4. Registered mail, which provides greater security protection to letters and parcels carrying items of real financial value, has many good uses.

5. Special delivery service which provides expedited delivery at the office of address during prescribed hours, is often useful.

6. Air mail and air parcel post, which provides quick delivery of cards and parcels to all sections of the country, can help greatly with Christmas mailings.

7. Postal delivery zone numbers, which speed handling of mail, should always be used wherever possible.

8. The "facing" of letters and cards so that they are all stacked the same way, with the address facing the same way, as well as the tying of mail into "Local" and "Out-of-Town" bundles will expedite mail, particularly when large quantities of mail are sent. Free labels for "Local" and "Out-of-Town" bundles are available at post offices.

A free postal pamphlet—available at all post offices—entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing," should answer practically all questions any Christmas mailer might have on preparation of Christmas parcels for mailing.

People who have no definite aim in their life's work are actually lost before they start.

The Culinary Kettle . . .

Chicago Stew Among Helen Loomis Favorites

By Toni Maurin
SY 7-9634

Although Mrs. Helen Loomis of 1140 Hastings Ranch Drive has an active and full civic life, she never stints on her family care and cooking. These three meat dishes have become family favorites:

JOHN MAZETTI
(CHICAGO) STEW
(Serves 8-10)

1 1/2 lb. lean pork, ground
1 pkg. flat egg noodles
3/4 lb. sharp N.Y. State cheese
1/2 cup tomato juice
4 large onions cut thick
1 can tomato soup
1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms
Salt and pepper to taste

Cook pork and onions in skillet over slow fire for 1/2 hour. Saute mushrooms in 2 tbs. butter. Cut up cheese in small pieces. Boil noodles 20 minutes and drain. Combine all ingredients thoroughly and put in two casseroles. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven for at least one half hour before serving or until completely heated through.

(*More tomato juice may be added as it bakes to keep it nice and moist.)

LIMA BEAN AND MEAT
BALL CASEROLE
(Serves 6)

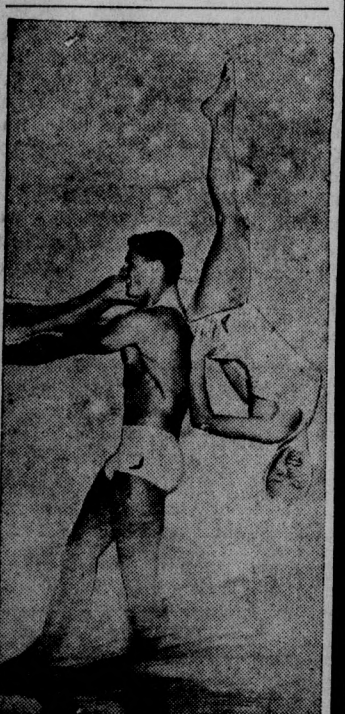

1 10-oz. pkg. frozen lima beans
2 or 3 slices of bread
1/4 cup milk
1/2 tsp. salt, pepper to taste
1 egg
1 clove garlic
1 lb. ground beef
4 tbs. butter
1/2 cup water
1 cup sour cream

Cook lima beans as directed on package until tender. While beans are cooking, soak slices of bread in a little bowl in milk. In another bowl mix one tsp. salt, pepper, egg and finely grated or mashed garlic. After bread has soaked a few minutes, squeeze out excess milk and mix bread, ground beef, and slightly beaten egg together with spices. Pinch off meat mixture and shape into little balls about the size of a walnut. Handle them as little as possible. Fry in one tbs. butter until brown on all sides, and then arrange on the bottom of a medium casserole. Pour water into skillet in which meat fried (if there is an excessive amount of fat, pour off part of it before adding water). Stir water around and then pour over meat balls. (Season lima beans with salt, pepper and butter and add to meat in casserole. Bake in 30 minutes in 350 degree F. oven. Remove and spoon sour cream over top and bake an additional 5 minutes. Sprinkle paprika over top before serving.

PORK CHOPS A LA LOOMIS
Brown four or five pork chops in skillet with a garlic clove cut up around them. The chops should be slightly floured and seasoned to taste before frying. The addition of paprika always gives a good color.

Then mix 1/4 cup water, 1/4 cup vinegar, and 2 tbs. brown sugar together and pour over chops. Add a bay leaf and put a tight lid on frying pan. Cook for about one hour, or longer if chops are particularly thick, over a low fire.

MRS. LOOMIS is the mother of three children, her eldest daughter, Toni, is 12, her son John C., III, 9, and Roxanne, 6.

JUST WHIZZING ALONG . . . Ski stars Mike Osborn and Edna Furlong are trying a few aquatics at Cypress Gardens, Fla. Edna's still smiling, though.

Scouting Around . . .

17 Area Leaders Attend Conference in Sacramento

Among the 1,000 delegates to the Girl Scouts of America 12th Regional Conference in Sacramento on Nov. 19-20 were 15 registered adults and two senior scouts from the Pasadena Area Girl Scout Council. Mrs. Herbert Hargraves attended from Sierra Madre.

The conference studied trends and new developments in Girl Scouting and covered discussions on international friendship and community cooperation and support.

Mrs. George Dunham, chairman of the national organization and the Management Committee of GSA, gave the keynote speech, "What She Wants, Can She Get in Girl Scouts?"

Mrs. Wesley Oadwallader of South Pasadena is chairman of the 12th Region, which includes Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah, Hawaii and Guam.

ATTENDING the Nov. 15 performance of "Around the World in 80 Days" were 16 members of Brownie Troop 505: Donna Barnes, Elise Foxton, Jeannie Irvine, Joanne Souders, Bonnie Olney, Patsy Ward, Camilla Eastwood, Patty Miller, Allison Donoghue, Georgianne Wilson, Sandra Hartman, Cindy Bevington, Jorga Calloway, Cynthia Wittig, Susan Gehrand and Claudia Hellmann.

Accompanying them were their leaders, Mrs. Robert Hartman and Mrs. William Barnes.

A SURPRISE snowstorm (the first for most girls) that lasted all night far outbalanced biting cold and discomfort for Troop 508 6th Grade scouts on a troop camping trip to Singing Pines on Nov. 15-16.

All the careful organization and plans for patrol duties worked out by the girls for their first big camping trip since this troop doubled in size last year were cut to the minimum in the excitement and in the constant effort to keep warm.

Twenty-two of the 28 troop members, along with their leader, two assistant leaders and two Troop Committee members and their husbands and families took part in the trip.

For the adults, it was a comedy of errors, from lost car keys, frozen radiators, a cracked motor block, to frozen meat, milk and salad vegetables, making meal preparation a headache, and numb toes and fingers that never seemed to warm up.

Countless cups of boiling coffee and hot chocolate and hot bricks in sleeping bags added a little warmth. Flannel pajamas on top of longies and under two or three pairs of pants, sweaters and coats also helped.

For the girls, it was sheer delight, even though teeth often sounded like castanets and "mysterious eyes in the night" (raccoons) were a little scary. It was a never-to-
